c. Describe the purpose of this DoD information system or electronic collection and describe the types of personal information about individuals collected in the system.

BOERS is used by Human Resources personnel and provides the ability to generate standard and ad-hoc reports to assist with personnel management and personnel administration. Reporting functionality is provided by third-party, Structured Query Language (SQL). The information collected is not retained and is refreshed via a database link to the System of Record. BOERS is not a transactional system. It is a Business Intelligence (BI) software application which allows users to generate reports with functionality to perform data mining and drill down. BOERS is a web application that is used to query, report, and analyze data from the Defense Civilian Personnel System (DCPDS) and the Current Record Mart (CRM) databases. The system acts as a gatekeeper between the user and the data to ensure security and to create a more user-friendly data environment.

The types of personal information that is collected is:

Position authorization and control information; position descriptions and performance elements; employment information; personnel data and projected suspense information for personnel actions; financial information to include pay, benefits, and entitlements data.

Historical information on employees, including Federal HR personnel actions, benefits, job experience, education, training, and training transaction data; performance plans, interim appraisals, final appraisals, closeouts and ratings; professional accounting or other certifications or licenses; awards information and merit promotion information; separation and retirement data; civilian deployment information and adverse and disciplinary action data; security clearance information.

Personnel information including but not limited to: employee name, Employee number, birth date, gender; race and national origin; handicap code; and foreign language capability and (Employee who works part-time at several agencies, Electronic Data Interchange Person Identifier (EDIPI), and Common Access Card (CAC) number; home address, military records, education information, position/title, rank/grade, security information-clearance level, citizenship, home/cell phone, mailing/home address, official duty address, work email address, disability information, financial information, social security number.

Data Matching and Mission-related use

e. Do individuals have the opportunity to object to the collection of their PII? Yes No

(1) If "Yes," describe the method by which individuals can object to the collection of PII.

(2) If "No," state the reason why individuals cannot object to the collection of PII.

The system contains aggregated data from DoD authoritative sources such as DCPDS, MILPERS, etc and is not directly collected from the individual. If the individual were to object to the release of PII information, that member cannot be considered for employment and therefore would not be hired by WHS.

f. Do individuals have the opportunity to consent to the specific uses of their PII? Yes No

(1) If "Yes," describe the method by which individuals can give or withhold their consent.

(2) If "No," state the reason why individuals cannot give or withhold their consent.

The information is aggregated and pulled from existing DoD authoritative sources such as DCPDS, Learning Management System for Military and Civilian Personnel training, and is not directly collected from the individual. If the individual were to object to the release of PII information, that member cannot be considered for employment and therefore would not be hired by WHS.

g. When an individual is asked to provide PII, a Privacy Act Statement (PAS) and/or a Privacy Advisory must be provided. (Check as appropriate and provide the actual wording.)
