(2) Transfers to a position for which they have already achieved the required certification level, then the DoD Component notifies the member of the requirement to maintain certification by completing CETs.

(3) Transfers to a position requiring a higher certification level than the previous position, then the DoD Component notifies the FM workforce member, in writing, of the requirement to complete the new, higher level within 2 years. The position appointment date is considered the actual start date.

(4) Transfers to a position requiring a lower certification level than the previous position then the DoD Component notifies the FM workforce member, in writing, to complete the new, lower-level certification within 2 years. The position appointment date is considered the actual start date for the lower-level certification. (Additional information regarding transferring to a lower certification level can be found in Paragraphs 4.3.c, 5.1.b.(4), and 5.2.d.)

- (3) FM employees are not required to complete lower-level certifications before completing the higher-level certifications.

b. Achievement of FM Certification.

- (1) Members must obtain the FM certification as a condition of employment. In the event a member cannot obtain the FM certification within the initial 2-year period, the member may request a time extension from the CCA for approval.
- (2) Once an FM workforce member is included in the DFMCP, the member uses the system of record to document certification requirements.
- (3) Supervisors are responsible for tracking FM workforce member progress toward certification. If an individual fails to obtain the required certification and was not granted a time extension, then the individual may be subject to progressive disciplinary action.
- (4) Once an FM workforce member completes their certification requirements, the FM workforce member is awarded the appropriate certification level designation. At any time during their career, the FM workforce member may only claim the certification level currently maintained.

c. FM and Leadership Course Alignment.

- (1) The FM myLearn Course Search (e-Catalog) on FM myLearn contains FM and leadership courses aligned to the DFMCP for initial certifications.
- (2) A DFMCP recognized course is defined as a structured learning event with at least one course objective and an agenda or outline, including a syllabus.
- (3) The CFCM Stakeholder Group is responsible for the development, discussion, approval, documentation, and modification of business rules for FM and leadership course alignment.

(4) FM workforce members are responsible for documenting their alternative professional certification compliance within the DFMCP system of record.

5.2. CET REQUIREMENTS FOR SUSTAINING FM CERTIFICATION.

a. Upon achieving their FM certification, FM workforce members must maintain their certification by completing CET requirements every 2 years.

b. CETs must be documented in the DFMCP system of record.

c. FM workforce members are subject to CET audits and will be required to provide supporting documentation of CETs earned for previous two CET cycles (i.e., 4 years). FM workforce members must comply with the CET audit or will be classified as non-compliant.

d. FM workforce members must maintain certification at the assigned level of the position or at a higher level. Unless the FM workforce member completes higher-level CETs to maintain the higher-level certification, the FM workforce member will be regarded as certified at the assigned level of the position.

e. Work-equivalency or experience credits, such as on-the-job training, are not creditable for CETs.

f. The OFCM has the authority to grant CETs, as appropriate.

g. The USD(C)/CFO may prescribe specific CET requirements for the FM workforce or portions of the FM workforce, within the CET requirements for each certification level.

h. The DoD Components may prescribe specific CET requirements for their Component or portions of their Component, within the CET requirements for each certification level.

(2) The respective CCA is the approval authority for all time extension requests.

(3) CCAs may approve time extensions greater than 1 year to complete the FM workforce member's experience requirement. In this case, the FM workforce member is required to complete all competency requirements and mandatory training except experience and developmental assignment within the 2-year window. DoD Components are encouraged to ensure continuing education is occurring for individuals in 2- to 6-year time extensions.

(4) Time extensions with supporting rationale are subject to audits.

c. CET Time Extension Policy.

(1) FM workforce members may request a CET time extension in 1-year increments, with supporting rationale, if they are unable to complete their CET requirements within the 2-year time period.

(2) The respective CCA is the approval authority for all time extension requests.
